

Human Resources Professionals Association CPD Extension Policy and Request Form

To request an extension of a registrant's Continuing Professional Development (CPD) period, this Form must be completed and submitted to the Office of the Registrar. All extension requests must be submitted prior to the May 31st CPD deadline, but no earlier than 6 months prior to when the CPD log is due.

Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Extension Policy

On what grounds can an extension be requested?

Extensions may be granted under this policy for up to one year for maternity/parental leave or a period of unemployment. Registrants unable to meet the CPD requirement due to a prolonged illness or disability can request an ongoing extension until such time as the registrant is able to return to work. The registrant will be required to provide an updated doctor's note to the Office of the Registrar annually by May 31st to confirm the continued need for the extension. Once the registrant is able to return to work, the registrant must inform the Office of the Registrar within 30 days. At that time, the CPD Committee will work with the registrant to develop a feasible professional development plan to ensure the registrant's CPD requirement is brought up to date.

How does an extension affect a registrant's CPD period?

An extension changes the registrant's submission date by one year. For example, if a registrant is scheduled to submit a CPD log by May 31, 2018 and is given a one-year extension, the registrant will be required to submit the completed CPD log by May 31, 2019. The registrant's next three-year CPD cycle will start on the date after the log is due. For example, if a registrant is granted a CPD extension from May 31, 2018 to May 31, 2019, then the next three-year CPD cycle would start on June 1, 2019 and end on May 31, 2022.

Please note that this only applies to one-year extensions. For extensions beyond one-year the registrant would be borrowing the additional time from their next CPD period. For example, if a registrant is due to submit a CPD log on May 31, 2018 and is granted an extension for 1 ½ years until November 30, 2019, the registrant's next CPD log would still be due by May 31, 2022. The registrant's next CPD cycle would therefore be six months shorter to account for the additional six months extension.

The reasons for this are as follows:

- It's a question of public trust: a designation is not just an indication of past education and training; it is a warrant of ongoing competence. Registrants are expected to have up-to-date knowledge of relevant legislation and current HR standards and practices; a defined CPD period that is not open to months or years of extension ensures this is the case.
- There is no annual requirement. Registrants have the flexibility to earn their CPD at any time during the three-year period.

- There is a wide variety of activities that are eligible for CPD credit; hours can be earned even if the registrant is not currently in the workforce, e.g., volunteering, mentoring/being mentored, free webinars, etc.
- Registrants having difficulty meeting the CPD requirement are asked to contact HRPA; the CPD Committee often works with registrants having difficulty meeting the CPD deadline to develop a mutually acceptable plan for catching up.

A registrant who is granted an extension for more than one year and who completes the CPD requirement after the first year has passed but before the extension expires may submit their log as soon as the required hours have been achieved. In that case, the original extension deadline is updated to reflect the actual log submission date and the new CPD period begins the next day. This provides incentive for the registrant to complete their CPD as close to the one-year mark as possible, while giving the registrant as much time as possible in the subsequent CPD period.

For example:

- A registrant's CPD period is June 1, 2017 to May 31, 2020
- The registrant is granted an extension from May 31, 2020 to November 30, 2021 (1 1/2 years)
- Their next CPD period is December 1, 2021 to May 31, 2024 (2 1/2 years)
- They complete the CPD requirement and submit their log on September 30, 2021
- Their extension deadline date is updated to October 1, 2021 and their next CPD period now runs from October 1, 2021 to May 31, 2024 (2 years and 8 months)

How can an extension be requested?

To request an extension, registrants must complete and submit a Continuing Professional Development Extension Request Form. The completed Form must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar for processing.

What documents have to be submitted with an extension request?

In addition to submitting the completed Extension Request Form, registrants requesting an extension to the CPD deadline must submit a completed log with the hours earned to date as well as documentation in support of their request for an extension. This could include documentation from an employer or government agency which verifies the reason behind the request, e.g., maternity leave. The request also must include a professional development plan outlining how the registrant intends to meet the outstanding CPD hours.

How are extensions granted?

Extensions may be granted by the Office of the Registrar to registrants who are on maternity/parental leave, experiencing a prolonged illness, or experience a period of unemployment.

Requests for an extension beyond one year for any reason other than prolonged illness or disability and requests for accommodation other than an extension to the log submission date will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis by the CPD Committee.

What happens if an extension request is denied?

If an extension request is denied, the registrant can appeal the decision by filing a Request to Appeal Form within 30 days of receiving the decision. Information about the appeals process can be found on HRPA's website: www.hrpa.ca
